January 2024: Mobile phone lockers for year 8

- -Researchers found that students in schools with phone bans earned higher test scores and that low-performing students benefited the most.
- -Another study published in the Journal of Communication Education found that students without mobile phones performed better in several different areas. They wrote down 62 percent more information in their notes, were able to recall more detailed information from class and scored a full grade-and-a-half higher on tests than those who were actively using their mobile phones.
- -Research published by the University of Chicago found that even if phones are turned off or turned face down their mere presence in pockets or desks reduces people's cognitive capacity.
